Indicate No Peace Over- tures Will Be Made to 400,000 Shopmen Who Threaten to Strike Satur- day if Cut is Not Stayed.

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, June 28.—Railroad managers today indicated that there will be no peace overtures to 500,000 shopmen whose leaders declared in an ultimatum last night that a strike is certain to result from the failure of the roads to ignore wage decisions of the railroad labor board, effective July first.

One Man Cars Are Proposed For This City

It became known today that the local street car company contemplates asking the city council to amend the franchise under which it operates in this city in order to permit the operation on its lines of one-man cars, street cars which are run by one operator instead of two.

When asked today regarding the proposed step, Mr. Holland said: "It is my intention at the next regular meeting of the Finance Committee of the City Council to take up with the committee the matter of changing the franchise of the company to operate one-man cars on its lines. The present franchise specifies that all cars shall be operated by at least two men."

The plan of the company is to put on an additional car and combine the present White Flag line or car operated to depot with the loop line, and the extra car will be put on this line. "These cars will run from the car barn down Main street to Craghead street, then around the loop by the cemetery to Holbrook avenue to Main street, at West End drug store. At the West End drug store the cars will be reversed and run down Holbrook, around the loop to the depot, up Craghead street, up Main street and South Main street to the car barn."

This will give a ten-minute schedule on the South Main street loop, and a 15-minute schedule at present, and will give a five-minute schedule from Mount Vernon church to Craghead street. "The prejudice against one-man cars," Mr. Holland said, "has been largely a 15-minute schedule at present, and will give a five-minute schedule from Mount Vernon church to Craghead street. "The prejudice against one-man cars," Mr. Holland said, "has been largely a 15-minute schedule at present, and will give a five-minute schedule from Mount Vernon church to Craghead street."

"At one time one of the arguments used against one-man cars was that if anything should happen to the conductor the passengers would be in jeopardy, but no one seems to feel that he is taking a risk of this kind in riding in an automobile, which is a one-man car."

"Experience has shown that fewer accidents occur with one-man cars than with cars in charge of two operators working together, for the reason that sometimes signals from one man to the other are misinterpreted or given wrong."

"The class of accidents known as 'step accidents' are practically eliminated with the use of one-man cars. "We do not want immediate action upon this matter, but we will bring it to the attention of the council and have them make a thorough investigation of the matter and be satisfied that this is the best for the interest of the public."

It is unlikely that the city council finance committee will reach any decision in the matter at its first consideration of the step. Most likely it will be the subject of considerable enquiry and discussion before anything is presented to the council for action.

Cook Hearing This Afternoon

Police Officer O. T. Cook, who was to have been given a hearing yesterday afternoon on a warrant charging felonious assault but which was postponed owing to the unavoidable absence of a member of the accused's counsel, will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The police commission will hear the evidence at the same time and will after the conclusion of the hearing go into executive session to deliberate on a verdict. The mayor will preside and will deal with the warrant just as he would any other charging felonious assault and the decision of the police commission will be independent of whatever the mayor may do.

Cook yesterday had no difficulty in giving a bond of $5,000 which the mayor required of him when it became evident that the case would be postponed. W. H. Cook, the patrolman's brother, went his bond.

The defense, it was intimated today, will be along this line. That a combination of circumstances presented themselves which led the police to believe that he was coping with a man who had taken an automobile. Efforts will be made to bring out that certain members of the police force had been on the watch for several nights for suspicious characters reported to have been lurking about Stokes street and that Cook on the alert for such marauders after hearing a crash and the speedy starting of an automobile, jumped at the conclusion that he was dealing with a thief and that when, as it is claimed, Cook and Morgan jumped into the street to stop the driver and when he failed to do so Cook became more convinced that he was dealing with a man suspected of a felony and shot at the tires to halt him. An effort will be made to show that when Benton drove his car down the slope leading to Five Forks the officer's bullet aimed at the wheel penetrated a point higher up. It seems that the defense counsel will try to show that Cook was guilty of an act prompted by over zealousness.

The prosecution will be along the line of the hard and fast law that an officer can use his weapon only in the case of dire emergency and in defense of his own life or in an effort to prevent a man known to have committed a felony from escaping.

Benton's wounds are reported to be mending well and that he will soon have the free use of the arm and hand which were hit by the bullet. The shooting promises to result in some useful reforms. It is learned that officers when elected to the force are given no instruction in their duties other than in the vaguest way. They are given a book of rules and regulations, but it is not until they are assigned to a post that they receive any practical advice or lectures bearing on their work by the police chief. They are armed with pistol, baton and badge and are expected apparently to learn their proper responsibilities by actual experience and by reading the book of police rules. The commission is quite probable will ordain that officers be given regular instruction and that some sort of supervision more exacting and less casual will be placed over them in order that they may master the ethics of police duty.

It was learned today that Cook yesterday went to Tippen's Mill, the point which was visited by Benton with Wade Pierce and Witcher, their frog hunting expedition presumably for the purpose of securing witnesses. Chief of Police Bell said today that Police Officer's emphasis on the point yesterday, out into the country to summons Dr. Bailey, who is a witness for the defense. Campbell and Lewis did not accompany Cook to Tippen's Mill in his quest, the chief states.

Kimberly Seems To Be Out of Luck

BY GEORGE H. MANNING
(Washington Correspondent of The Washington Post.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—John B. Kimberly, who was some months ago appointed acting postmaster at Fort Monroe, after a long and bitter controversy, and the ousting of Postmaster Cardwell, has failed to get a place on the list of eligibles for the postmastership, as a result of the examination held some months ago and it is difficult to see how he can get the job. Kimberly was put on the list of eligibles for the postmastership by executive order of the president waiving the Civil Service and postal rules regarding age.

Mr. Kimberly is above the age limit of 65, and a special order was issued by the Postoffice Department waiving the Civil Service rule regarding age when he was several months ago appointed acting postmaster.

The list of eligibles forwarded to the Postoffice Department today by the Civil Service Commission shows that of the fifteen candidates who took the examination, the eligibles are Hugh M. Woods, George O. Hawkins and Mrs. Ambler. Kimberly was not put on the list. Civil Service officials said, because he was over the age limit of 65.

Major Kimberly was in Washington yesterday in conference with Congressman Stump and Postoffice Department officials. It is believed an effort is being made to have the Civil Service rule regarding age waived so that Kimberly can get on the eligible list and be in line for the regular appointment.

A bitter controversy was aroused at Fort Monroe several months ago when the Republicans ousted Mrs. Cardwell, who has held the office a long time, to give the place to Major Kimberly, a Democrat. The office was in favor of allowing the widow of a former army officer to retain the place.

The Republicans took the position that it was a political office, and that Mrs. Cardwell, her late husband had been residents of Virginia, and that she should give up the office for an active Republican party man. Major Kimberly is the Republican leader of that vicinity.

Machinery Begins To Arrive Here

A car load of machinery to be erected at the city power house where an additional unit is to be installed has arrived on the siding. The forerunner of several which are expected within the next few weeks. The machinery arriving here is in connection with the filtration of water running into the additional boilers which will be set up. E. C. Brantley, who has charge of the station, stated today that within the next 30 days work will be started in earnest in erecting the new power unit which, when completed, will double the capacity of the present plant. It is expected that the additional power will be available by October 1st or before the beginning of the tobacco season when demands for current from local factories becomes heavier.

Some of the material to be brought here has been stopped for being sent from the States, owing to the fact that the lower freight rate will become operative on July 1st and it is proposed to benefit by the lower rates by holding the machinery ready for shipment. This it is said means a saving of about $500 to the city.

Edward M. P. Murphy Loses Annulment Action Brought Against "Kissless" Bride.

NEW YORK, June 27.—In the absence of any court decision here to the contrary, Edward M. P. Murphy of No. 911 Park avenue is in the position today of having two lawfully wedded wives.

Supreme Court Justice Wasservogel blasted Mr. Murphy's hopes of unsmothering his marital tangle yesterday when he refused to grant his petition for annulment of marriage to his first wife.

Mr. Murphy, who is a director in several financial corporations and a brother of Colonel Grayson M. P. Murphy of J. P. Morgan & Co., married Alice Gertrude S. Murphy, secretary, in April, 1913. They parted in December, 1915, and in April, 1920, Mr. Murphy obtained a decree of annulment by default in Reno, Nev. In September of the same year at Reno he married Mrs. Sidney E. Eric Johnston, widow of a United States Army officer.

The first Mrs. Murphy denied the validity of her husband's decree, on the ground that the persons in the name had been made-up on her within the State of Nevada. She ignored service in this State and did not defend the Reno action.

To remove all grounds upon which he first wife might press any claim against him in this State, Mr. Murphy started an action here to annul the first marriage, alleging his first wife had been a "kissless bride."

Mrs. Gertrude S. Murphy denied her husband's charge of coldness and ascribed their unhappiness to the alleged interference of her husband's mother and sister who looked down upon her, she said, because she had been a secretary.

In the judgment rendered in favor of Mrs. Murphy, Wasservogel said: "In November, 1915, more than a year and a half after his marriage, the defendant, it is inconceivable that he could have written as he did of relations with her, had they been as now claimed."

The question of the validity of Mr. Murphy's Reno decree in this State has never been passed upon. It is not clear what the ruling may be on that question. Mr. Murphy cannot be charged with bigamy, as he married the second time in Nevada, where his decree of annulment from his first wife is valid.

Mrs. Gertrude S. Murphy answered Mr. Murphy's annulment suit with a counter claim for separation. Her attorney, Stephen F. Hartman, said yesterday he was not in a position to say if the couple would press their case to one for divorce, but declined to say if he intended to let matters rest as they now are.

RHEUMATISM SO BAD SHE HAD TO QUIT HER WORK

Petersburg Resident Also Says She Suffered Terribly From Disordered Stomach But Tanlac Completely Overcame All Her Troubles.

"Tanlac has been such a blessing to me I can't help singing its praises," said Mrs. T. J. Archer, highly esteemed resident of 1147 Shepard St., Petersburg, Va.

"I had indigestion so bad I couldn't eat a thing without being in misery for hours, and the pain around my heart caused by the gas seemed to cut me in two. I constantly had headaches and awful spells of dizziness. Then to make matters worse rheumatism in my arms, shoulders and knees almost drove me to distraction, and for three months I couldn't do a stroke of work."

"I had just about decided it was no use to take any more medicine when my husband brought me a bottle of Tanlac. Now I never have a touch of indigestion. Headaches and dizzy spells are a thing of the past, and rheumatism has left me entirely. I never have known a medicine to equal Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—adv.

Chautauqua Has Small Crowd On Opening Night

Last night's audience at the Radcliffe Chautauqua in the Ridge street tabernacle looked small in numbers, probably owing to the inclemency of the weather, and it is probable that the high temperature and anticipated discomfort militated against the attendance of many who had purchased season tickets. The audience numbered only three hundred, and the scarcity of men and the preponderance of children was rather noticeable. However, it made up in enthusiasm for both the concert and the ensuing lecture, which made up the evening's programme. The musical feature was contributed by a sextette of girls playing various instruments, and a vocalist who sang several popular numbers. The instrumental programme included a saxophone, flute, cornet, two trombones and a piano, and all the performers proved themselves skilful in extracting melody from these. There were solos on saxophone, cornet, flute and trombone, and the selection played, while mostly of a popular character, included a number of the most enjoyable numbers on the programme was the familiar duet from "The Trovatore," the prison scene. In the rendition of which the cornet and flute were particularly effective. While the other performer was on the rostrum, the effect of the duet being thus heightened. Many old favorite selections were played, including "Silent Threads Among the Gold," "The Last Rose of Summer" and "All Thro' the Night." On the whole this portion of the programme was well received. It can hardly be said to have been enthusiastically applauded, however, with such a small audience in so large a hall.

Dr. D. Daniel, of Clemson college, S. C., lecturer and humorist who was well known here, having spoken here two or three times, spoke for about half an hour, in a pleasantly humorous and serious vein, his theme being "The Things That Make a City Great." He had been announced to speak on "How We Grow Our Government," but on the other theme and incidentally in large measure repeated an address he had made before the Chamber of Commerce here several years ago. He emphasized cheerfulness, courtesy, co-operation and the importance of each citizen contributing to real greatness. His unusually rapid enunciation enabled him to make what might have been a long address seem rather a brief one, though he spoke for nearly an hour.

The programme for this afternoon includes the Clifford Collins duo in character sketches, reading and recitation, and a lecture by Edward Tomlinson on "Making the Dreams Come True." In the evening the Skibinsky-Reed combination and violin and vocalist music will be featured. Mr. Tomlinson will lecture on "America's Political Faith." Mr. Skibinsky is described as a brilliant violinist, while Miss Reed is characterized as a consummate pianist of unusual ability and an excellent pianist.

SCHREIBER IS ARRESTED FOR LEAVING CHILD

MACON, Ga., June 27.—Dr. Ernest Schreiber, who was bound and gagged by a band of masked men and carried to the outskirts of the city late last Saturday night and ordered to leave the city, and who has been making his plans to comply with the orders was arrested this afternoon on a warrant charging him with abandonment of his minor children, who live in Boston, Mass.

The only charge appearing on the police blotter against Dr. Eugene Schreiber was that of loitering. Chief of Police Martin Thompson explained that he had a telegram from Superintendent of Police Crowley, of Boston, to arrest Schreiber and hold him on an indictment warrant obtained in that city charging him with desertion of his minor children, abandonment and non-support. No bail will be accepted in the case, it was said.

Dr. Schreiber was just packing his office, preparatory to leaving the city during the night, it was stated by the officers, when they made the arrest. He appeared surprised.

Lawyers called into the case, the same ones who filed his petition for divorce, he said that they would fight extradition.

Mrs. Vera Bergeheim, the nurse who has figured in the case locally, left Sunday night, shortly after the kidnapping of Dr. Schreiber, and said to be in Jacksonville, Fla., with her two daughters.
